The document applies to all systems using SiteWatch or TunnelWatch 3 or later.

Sign-Off Form for Customer LogMeIn Access:

- This document contains a sign-off form that a site or organization is required to sign and return to DRB Systems, Inc. should they choose to allow someone from their organization to have remote access to their computers. Note: This form must be filled out by the owner of the site or organization.
- This form must be on file before a LogMeIn user account can be created or merged with the DRB Systems LogMeIn account.
- Sites that want to change the email address associated with LogMeIn need to fill out and resubmit this form with the updated email address.

Warning about Customer LogMeIn Access:

By default, the LogMeIn account on your SiteWatch and TunnelWatch computers can only be accessed by DRB Systems staff members. By filling out this form you are granting remote access to all of your SiteWatch and TunnelWatch computers within your organization to the person associated with that e-mail address.

If that person leaves your organization, their account is compromised, or permissions change, you must notify DRB Systems Support during normal business hours to disable that account.

If you sell your organization or site, you must notify DRB Systems Support to disable these accounts. The new owner will need to complete this form if they still want to allow access to those accounts.
